How Can Medicines Be More Affordable?

No one should have to go without their medicines, but that is happening too often as patients are increasingly asked to pay more out-of-pocket for them. Now is the time for creative solutions to ensure wider access to life-enhancing and lifesaving treatments and cures. State and federal policymakers, advocates, payers, and the biopharmaceutical industry all have ideas for making cutting-edge treatments more widely available. Where are the best opportunities to help patients get the medicines they need?

POWER TO THE PATIENT

Deep Dive: Rebuilding the Patient Experience

Patient-centered care is defined by the Academy of Medicine as “providing care that respects and responds to individual patient preferences, needs and values, and ensures that patient values guide all clinical decisions.” Designed to place patients at the heart of the system, the approach is built around well-coordinated quality care, including physical comfort and emotional support, and emphasizes patient needs and the involvement of loved ones. Quality, cost, design, accessibility, and responsiveness intersect in true patient-centered care, with each feature influencing and supporting the others. What innovations from around the world can enhance the patient experience?

Healthier Living Through Innovation

Once inventions work their way into widespread use – the Internet and the cell phone, the X-ray machine and the CT scanner – we stop thinking about them as novelties, and start considering them inevitable. Today, the possibilities for health-related innovations seem greater than ever, as massive amounts of data and lightening-speed computers are coupled with ever-more sophisticated scientific and biologic knowledge. But it still takes creativity, perseverance, and perhaps some chutzpah, to imagine what doesn't yet exist - and to ensure equity. How does technology evolve from an idea into an indispensable tool? How do innovators innovate?

ETHICS, VALUES, AND HEALTH

Advancing the Right to Health

The right to health has been affirmed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the constitution of the World Health Organization, and codified in numerous national constitutions and policy statements. On Native American lands and African villages, in the offices of global think tanks and international aid groups, activists are creating the conditions to widen access to care. But not everyone even agrees that health is a universal right, especially in the US, where individual protections tend to dominate over community goals. Is health a promise that should be kept? And if so, how do we keep it?

MENTAL HEALTH: OUT OF THE SHADOWS

Our Children Are in Trouble

From academic pressures to classroom shootings, economic uncertainty to climate change, young people are facing more stressors than ever, and it's surfacing in some terrible ways. In the past 12 months, 62 percent of college students said they had felt overwhelming anxiety at some point, 41 percent were so depressed that it was difficult to function, and 11 percent had seriously considered suicide. Younger teens are struggling too, expressing their emotional wounds in self-harm, eating disorders, violence, apathy, and other destructive behavior. VOICES AND VIEWPOINTS

Taking the Lead on Global Health

Although new technologies and public and private financial commitments have powered tremendous advances in global health in recent years, insufficient human capital and the lack of strong institutional systems limit progress. Countries that have done most to improve the health of their people have benefited from determined political leaders who set aspirational goals, mobilize resources, and implement cross-sector strategies. Whether it is preventing malaria, reducing child mortality, or broadening access to primary care, committed leadership and effective management lie at the heart of change.

Should We Overhaul the Drug Development System?

The high cost of pharmaceuticals gets a lot of public attention, but that is only the endpoint of a long pipeline that moves drugs from the laboratory to clinical testing to approval and into the marketplace. In the era of precision medicine, we urgently need a system that supports the development of innovative therapies at every step—but just as urgently, we need strategies that allow consumers to gain access to them at reasonable prices. Eminent health economists look into the heart of the drug discovery framework and answer the question patients care most about: Can the system work better so we can pay for the therapies we need?

Deep Dive: The Microbiome Around the World

The human microbiome—those trillions of microbes that occupy the gut and many other parts of the body—plays a complex and intricate role in inflammatory diseases. One intriguing clue about its role is that place matters—the microbiome looks very different from one part of the world to another. Emigration and globalization reduce that diversity, with implications for biological systems that we don't yet fully understand. How does location alter the microbial environment? What happens to the microbiome when people move from regions with traditional plant-based diets to the meat-centric and highly processed diet that dominates the western plate?

Subject: Travel Booking Reminder: Aspen Ideas Festival

Dear Stuart Portman,

I am reaching out because you have received a full scholarship to the 2019 Aspen Ideas Festival. A full scholarship includes paid travel, lodging, and a festival pass.

Congratulations on your achievement! In order for us to provide for your travel, we need you to complete this Travel Request Form. This form will put you in touch with our travel agents who are ready to assist you in booking your flight to Aspen. After completing the form, the agent will soon be in touch with an itinerary for you to approve.

Keep your lodging dates in mind as you complete the form. While you can request for flights outside those dates, we will only provide lodging for the dates that were sent to you in your confirmation email. Complete the Travel Request form as soon as possible so that we can book your flights before they become prohibitively expensive.

For questions, please contact me at christen.cromer@aspeninstitute.org

Thank you,

9. USE ONLY IF YOU CHECKED QUESTION 6(B)

I certify that if the sponsor or sponsors retain or employ one or more registered lobbyists or agents of a foreign principal, one of the following scenarios applies:

☐ (A) The trip is for attendance or participation in a one-day event (exclusive of travel time and one overnight stay) and no registered lobbyists or agents of a foreign principal will accompany the Member, officer, or employee on any segment of the trip.

☐ OR ☐

☐ (B) The trip is for attendance or participation in a one-day event (exclusive of travel time and two overnight stays) and no registered lobbyists or agents of a foreign principal will accompany the Member, officer, or employee on any segment of the trip (see questions 6 and 10).

☐ OR ☐

☐ (C) The trip is being sponsored only by an organization or organizations designated under § 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and no registered lobbyists or agents of a foreign principal will accompany the Member, officer, or employee at any point throughout the trip.

10. USE ONLY IF YOU CHECKED QUESTION 9(B)

If the trip includes two overnight stays, please explain why the second night is practically required for Senate invitees to participate in the travel:

11. ☒ An itinerary for the trip is attached to this form. I certify that the attached itinerary is a detailed (hour-by-hour), complete, and final itinerary for the trip.

12. Briefly describe the role of each sponsor in organizing and conducting the trip:

The Aspen Institute hosts the Aspen Ideas: Health conference (formerly Spotlight Health) annually. The Institute plans, organizes and conducts Aspen Ideas: Health, including the programming, production and speaker and scholar logistics. See continued response attached.

13. Briefly describe the stated mission of each sponsor and how the purpose of the trip relates to that mission:

The Aspen Institute is an educational and policy studies non-profit organization. Its mission is to foster leadership based on enduring values and provide a nonpartisan forum for the exchange of ideas and dealing with critical issues. See continued response attached.

14. Briefly describe each sponsor's prior history of sponsoring congressional trips:

The Aspen Institute has a nearly forty-year history of conducting non-partisan educational forums, which include congressional trips. For almost twenty years, the Commonwealth Fund has hosted and invited Members of Congress to the Bipartisan Congressional Health Policy Conference.

15. Briefly describe the educational activities performed by each sponsor (other than sponsoring congressional trips):

16. Total Expenses for Each Participant:

17. State whether a) the trip involves an event that is arranged or organized without regard to congressional participation or b) the trip involves an event that is arranged or organized specifically with regard to congressional participation:

18. Reason for selecting the location of the event or trip

19. Name and location of hotel or other lodging facility:

130 Wood Road, Snowmass Village, Colorado

20. Reason(s) for selecting hotel or other lodging facility:

21. Describe how the daily expenses for lodging, meals, and other expenses provided to trip participants compares to the maximum per diem rates for official Federal Government travel:

The lodging rate and other expenses (meal) exceed the per diem rate for Pitkin County, Colorado.

The hotel was the most affordable option to house the scholars. The meals are included in the conference meeting package negotiated with Aspen Meadows Resort for all Aspen Ideas: Health attendees.

22. Describe the type and class of transportation being provided. Indicate whether coach, business-class or first class transportation will be provided. If first-class fare is being provided, please explain why first-class travel is necessary:

Coach airfare.

23. ☒ I represent that the travel expenses that will be paid for or reimbursed to Senate invitees do not include expenditures for recreational activities, alcohol, or entertainment (other than entertainment provided to all attendees as an integral part of the event, as permissible under Senate Rule 35).

24. List any entertainment that will be provided to, paid for, or reimbursed to Senate invitees and explain why the entertainment is an integral part of the event:

None

25. I hereby certify that the information contained herein is true, complete and correct. (For trips involving more than one sponsor, you must include a completed signature page for each additional sponsor):
